WASHINGTON, August 26, 1856. A MOMENTOUS DAY FOR HUNGRY PHILADELPHIA POLI-TICIANS.

For the last ten days there has been a large number of Philadelphia politicians here arranging who shall be re-inoved from office in their city, and also suggesting who shall be a; jointed to the places made vacant. It is said that the state is well averaged and the appointments will be announced before the President starts on his tour. J. R. Flanigan, has been the shief of the Philadelphia delegation, and the seen the chief of the Philadelphia delegation, and has been sorking hard for the Postmastership. There is trouble, however, in the Philadelphia appointments, news having reached the President that, so far, no provisions for his reception have been made by its Mayor or city council, consequently the Philadelphians who have been here left for home very suddenly yesterday to try and have things fixed so as to give the Presi dont a good reception.

A hasty assessment of the salaries of all the employes in the Navy Yard, Arsenal, Custom House, Post Office, and other Foderal offices, will be made, and some kind of a reception fixed. A number of offices will depend on the kind of reception the President receives at the hands of the people of the City of

BOUNTIES TO COLORED SOLDIERS.

The recent order of the Secretary of the Treasury to The Second Auditor directing the suspension of the payment of bounties to colored soldiers is to operate only until roles are prepared by the Commission of the War Department for the payment of these and all other bounties; one of the objects being to protect all such Government claimants. The Treasury Department has not been advised that the rules have been pre-

THE CLEVELAND CONVENTION.

Some of the leading papers treat the call for the Convention at Cleveland on the 17th of September as though It was addressed only to the army. This is a mistake. The pall though originating with army officers, invites to a Sol-diers' and Sailors' Convention all who have served either in the army or navy of the Union during the late Rebellion and who are favorable to the reconstruction policy of the President and the principles announced by the Philadelphia Convention. REPORTS OF RESIGNATIONS OF HIGH OFFICIALS.

Rumors of Secretary Stanton's immediate resignation ere again in circulation. Some assert positively that Gen. Steedman will soon take charge of the War Office. Mr. Stanton was with the President and Gen. Grant on Saturday, It is also said that Gen. Fullerton and not Gen. Tillson will succeed Gen. Howard. Fullerton aspired to Judge-Advocate Motify place, but his friends advise him to study a little more of those law books before he applies for Judge Holt's position. In the mean time he may take Gen. Howard's desk. It is stated upon what is regarded as trustworthy authority that the Hon. Lowis Clephane, Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of Celumbia, in obedience to instructions to that effect is about making a final report to the Internal Revenue Bureau. preparatory to vacating his office to give place to a supporter of the new Johnson party. VOLUNTEER STAFF OFFICERS TO BE MUSTERED OUT.

Au order will be issued soon mustering out of the service all volunteer staff officers.

General Butler on the Condition of the Country.

His only Hope of Peace is to Sustain Congress.

His Opinion of the Philadelphia Convention and the New-Orleans Massacre.

The Names of the Brave Soldiers who Endure the Pittsburgh Convention.

BOSTON, Aug. 26, 1866. At a political meeting at Gloucester last evening, Gen. Butler was one of the speakers. The Herald's dispatch

Gen. Butler, on being introduced, said that the issue now before the country were the same substantially as those of 1860, and in this connection he proceeded to trace the causes which led to the Rebellion, and the part taken by the Southern States in their attempt to overthrow the Government. He contended that by their rebellion they had forfeited their property, their rights, and their lives, if Rebels were hanged, which, unfortunately, he said, they were not. Passing on, he speke of the failure of the Southern representatives to secure their seats in Congress, and said that if any portion of the Southern States had sent a loyal man to Congress, it was only to get him admitted, and when they had secured a representation, they would send disloyal men. Referring to the Philadelphia Convention, he said it was composed of a set of men who proposed to settle a war which they did not fight, but than the great Jack Rogers of New-Jersey. Jack commenced by telling the crowd that he was the honored leader of the minority of the present Honse of Rapresent atives. After relating the sufferings of himself and his minority, he gave the crowd that first-class stereotyped Copperhead speech, he has been making since the folclellan Chicago Convention. Nigger wenches—black back niggers—infernal Abolitionists—d——d Radicals—high-toned Southerners—our noble and most worthy President—the Christian soldier Gen. Lee, and the thieving beast, Gen. Ben Butler were among the topics Jack directed to the crowd. By the time Jack had finished the crowd had become very well thinned out and so the meeting adjourned at a late hour. I have never seen a political gathering so devoid of enthusiasm. There seemed to be very little applance and none of the excitement that attends such occasions. It seems to be almost certain now that a thorough overhawing of all the departments will be made and all clerks who do not support the policy of the President will be dismissed. At the meeting last night the following was a clause in the resolutions adopted:

Resolved, That the interest of the public welfare tuperatively demands that all the Departments of the Government should be thoroughly purged and that the enemies of the President and all persons opposed to his wise policy and now in the enjoyment of Governmental patronnge should no longer be permitted to occupy their positions to his embarrassment and the public detriment.

THE NAMES OF THOSE WHO WILL BE THERE. Special Dispatch to The N. Y. Tribune

WASHINGTON, Aug Jat 26, 1866. The Convention of discharged veterans of the National Army, to be held at Pittsburgh, if the thousands of strong indorsements from brave and true men received fare is any indication, will be largely attended by representatings from every regiment that has served during the Rebellion, Some of these letters speak in unmeasured terms of con-demnation of the policy which seeks to secure representation of Rebels in Congress, while it denies the right of franchise or protection to the freed race.

The official call for the Convention will be promulgated on Monday, the Johnson Committee having invited Rev. Henry Ward Beecher to act as Chaplain at their Convention. Rev. Granville P. Moody, the fighting chaplain has been requested to perform the same duties for the Pittsburg Convention. The following is a partial list of orators who have been selected for the occasion: Major-Generals Banks, Butler, Howard, Burnside, Terry, Hincks, Schurz, Seigel and Terry, from the Eastern States, and Major-Generals Geary, Bartlett, Potter, Hartranff, Owen, McAlister, from Middle States. The West will be represented by Major-Generals Logan, Oglesby, Schenck, Garfield, Washburn, Prentiss, Pope, Cox, and the South by Generals Thomas, Fletcher, McKelso, Brownlow, Kiddo, and others.

TENNESSEE.

ADDRESS OF GOV. BROWNLOW-REVIEW OF THE

Governor Brownlow has issued a long address to the people of New-Orleans, being too feeble to speak in public. It contains a history of the recent extra session of the Legislature, and the attempt to defeat the Constitutional Amendment, and closely reviews the course of the President. He believes Mr. Johnson a traitor, and gives the following reasons:

President. He believes Mr. Johnson a traitor, and gives the following reasons:

"Because he is tarning loyal men out of office by thousands to make room for Rebels and traitors. Because he is appointing Tennessee Legislative holters to office as a reward for their revolutionary and villatnous conduct. Because he betrayed the Breckinridge Democracy after working with and for them up to the day on which Lincoln was first elected. Because he betrayed the loyal North after they had elected him to the office of Vice-President. Because he has betrayed the down-trodden and unoffending negro, trying sgain to sell him into bondage after promising to be his Mosses. Because he has betrayed the Fenians to the British Government after selling them gives and ammunition, and impressing their minds with the belief that he was their friend. And last, but not least, because he has never been true to any one but Andrew Johnson."

which the Government can pay is save owner suffer than that and it is better that once loyal slave owner suffer than that nine honest laborers, equally loyal, suffer to make his losses good.

"Most of the men now to the Copperhead ranks in the South, are men who expect, when the Southern States are represented in Gongress, that they will be compensated for their negroes. Not a few of them think that they will even get Slavery restored. Our people can afford to pay a direct tax to liquidate the war dobt, through a period of several years, but tax them to pay for 4,000,000 of slaves, owned by a small sumber of natobis and original Specesionists, and they will not get through with tax paying in a file time.

"To the Union masses, the honest working voters, I say in all candor, watch the men who edvocate this paying for their lost negroes. If the Government will tax the slave owners alone to pay for the negroes, I ge for it, but I shall never consent to tax men to pay for necroes who never owned any, and never desired to own any. Slaveholders got up the big dance in 1861—they continued the frolie for four years—and they are the very men to pay the fiddler!"

The document closes as follows:

"In the address I have used great plainness of speech, and for the reasons, first, that I desired and intended to be understood; and next, because this is no time for putting forth an uncertain sound. I have desired to set in harmony with the President—so has the great Union party of the country, the Legislature of the State, and Congress, as I took occasion to write him about the beginning of this year. I hope he may publish this short letter. I have resolved that the President should not call a Grayback Convention at Philadelphia—a Convention to be composed of office-holding Republicans, of delegates from the Rebel Congress and the Rebel armies, and out of these materials organize a Johnson Democratic Rebel party. This is the pass to which we have come at last, and those who are willing that a faithless President shall transfe this State and nation are to be governed by lead of case men.

"It is proper for me to state that my term of service will expire in October, 1807, and that I shall not be a caudidate for realection to the office I now hold, or to any other office within the gift of the people. While I am in office I shall endeavor to do my whole duty, as I have done, without regard to consequences. In retirement I will continue to vote and set only with the party that is radical in its loyalty to the Union, and radical in its opposition to all the schemes and devices of Robels and Rebel sympathizers.

"W. G. BROWNLOW, Governor of Tennessee.

A JOHNSON MEETING PRESIDED OVER BY GEN. FORREST. MEMFHIS, Tenn., Aug. 25.—An immense mass meeting was held in the Court-square this evening to ratify the proceedings of the National Union Convention at Philadelphia. Gen. Forrest presided and addressed the meeting, saying he wanted no more fighting. When he laid down his arms he bore no malice in his heart toward any Northern man. He said those who wanted to stay at home during theswar he supposed would be sent to the Legislature and Congress, but, for one, he was willing to trust the men he had met upon the field of battle. Those who shirked duty and were casemated in Washington could no more be trusted than those who did the same thing in the South.

Gen. Forrest was followed by the Hon. Gustavus Henry in an eloquent address. Resolutions were adopted accepting the address of the National Union Convention at Philadelphia, and indorsing Andrew Johnson. The meeting was one of the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in this city.

ADDRESS TO THE PERSIDENT.

Mr. John Hincheiffe of Illinois addressed the President on behalf of the committee, saying he had the honor to present some facts for his consideration. It had been represented that the calling of the recent convention was for the purpose of forming a new party. This, in a political sense, was not true. It was for the object of discussing and taking such measures as would best effect the needer forms. Those who composed that convention were especially interested in the reduction of the hours of labor. That was the corner-stone of heir movement—eight hours as a day's labor, legally considered. They ignored political issues and politics, and did not consider their organization as having anything to do with them. They appeared as laborers, and as such presented their claims to the President's favorable consideration, and asked him, if he deemed proper, to imitate the example of President Van Buren, when he was approached by parties similarly in terested, asking for a reduction of labor to ten bours a day at the Navy-Yards and in other Government mechanical departments. This was granted by general order. The example, was followed all over the country by private employers, and the custom has become in some degree law. They now desired to ask a still further reduction to eight hours a day. They believed that they had advanced sufficiently by the movements in machinery and otherwise to justify them in asking for a participation in the benefits which would thereby be conferred. They thought it would add to their physical as well as moral and intellectual development. They desired sito to call the attention of the President to another subject, namely, the disposition of the public lands. They thought too much had been permitted to accumulate in the hands of speculators, and in too large a degree given to incorporated companies for railroad purposes. This, in the And American According to the control of the contro weather of yesterday.

Of course, it being Dexter's day, a great crowd was in attendance, nearly every town in Northern Ohio on the line of the railroads being represented. Besides the race for the big purse, there was one for a purse of $200, open to all horses except Dexter, Butler and Patchen.

The contest was between Panic and Silas Rich. This was won by Sir Walter of Paincsville, Ohio; time 2:37 4-5, 2:38 2-5, 2:38 3-5. A purse of $200 was made upon the ground for a match between Silas Rich and Bay Billy, three in five to harness, which resulted in favor of the former, time 2:29, 2:39 1-5, 2:38 2-5.

At about moon the horses entered for the large purse, viz., Dexter, Geo. M. Patchen and Gen. Entier were called, and each was received with cheers upon coming on to the course. The horses trotted saveral times around the course at a moderate gait, and at shout 124 o'clock were called to the start, Butler having the pole, Patchen second, and Dexter on the outside.

First Heat.—The first attempt to get off was unsuccessful but on the second effort the horses came up in good style and the word go was given. Butler had the lead, Patchen second by half a neck and Dexter fully half a length. Still farther in the rear Patchen quickly overtook Butler and at the first quarter had left him half a length.

The little horse seemed to have got thoroughly down to his work, and running swiftly by Butler, closed up to Patchen, and taking the lead ho steadily widened the sap, which had increased to several lengths at the third quarter, and came in an easy winner of the heat in 2.324; Patchen second half mile, Butler fully two lengths. On the second half mile, Butler pressed Patchen hard for the second place, but he broke badly, especially in the fourth quarter, and kept the rear.

Second Heat.—Four attempts were made before a start, in consequence of Butler coming up on a run on the start. Butler had the lead, Patchen second and Dexter behind. Dexter, however, soon changed places with Butler, and shooting up to Patchen they came in at the half mile nearly neck and neck, Butler being out of the question. Patchen now broke and Dexter still being third.

Wo in Texas are on the eve of another war, which will be more desperate than the one out of which we have just emerged. The former loaders in Rebellion, save some dozen Union men elected to fill unimpo, tant county offices, have all been elected, and they are more hos vile and rabid than they were during the war or before the Sta te seceded. Unless Congress furnishes protection, by directing the troops to remain and posting them in the most important towas, there will not be a Union manieth in Texas in six month?

The disloyal from other States are coming in more or less every day, and thousands are returning from Mexico who went off with Prince and Shelby, and a more desperate set never before infested any cumtry. Murders are an every day occurrence. The civil law is defied and trampled upon, the freedmen are held in many parts of the State in as strict bondage as before the war, and Union men dare not speak their sentiments openly.

NIAGARA FALLA, August 23, 1866. The exodus of the grand Presidential caravan is the The exodus of the grand Presidential caravan is the great event now under discussion here. "Ms. Soward and the old man" have arranged, through their ancient valet, for a reception here, and a ball at the International, in which the cavaleade of office-seekers and office-holders will have an opportunity to display their pecifiar talent of changing sides and jumping Jim Crow.

The cards of invitation embrace the names of ambitious politicians from the neighboring cities, and same of the citizens here, who were not consulted with regard to the use of their names.

here, who were not consulted with regard to summer.

Already the hungry swarm of office-holders the into register their names at the hotele, and the ex-President of Holls White's Bank is marshaling the veracious growd.

This is a great place for pic-nice. To-day these are three, from Lockport, Spencerport and Batavia, which number at least 5,009 people, and make the islands very lively and gay.

Two hack-drivers were arrested yesterday for an attempt to kill one of the laborers in the paper mill. He was bratally beaten and lies at the point of death. His measurant are chained to the floor of the lock-up.

The hotels are not crowded, but have a goodly sumber. The ladian stores continue to humber the green case, and everyhody here seems to regard invaders as grees, who are only useful for their feathers, and there is a general disposition to pluck them.

Considerable interest is felt in the match for the championship of Peunsylvania, which will take place on the 28th, in Philadelphis, between R. J. Plunkett, the precent champion, and Victor Estephe. Both players have been in constant practice, and Plunkett recently made a run of ever 390. Estephe, in a game of 1,000 points, with R. T. Ryall, exchampion, and one of the most promising of American players, recently made two runs of upward of 200, and a third of nearly 400. Estephe's specialty is the Prench game, in which he was perhaps more successful than any of our other players with the invincible Carme, while Plunkett's chief strongth is in the "push shot."
